

News about the 2nd annual EcoPhilly meeting, Saturday November 12, 2022

Seen the video of Archbishop Nelson Pérez speaking about the Feast of St. Francis? (<https://www.instagram.com/reel/CjS6kfOooby/>) He stressed how important protecting the environment is, as part of our duty as Catholics to respect God's wonderful creation. He also highlighted EcoPhilly, our archdiocese's Creation Care Ministry.

EcoPhilly is holding its second annual meeting where, we hope, you and other members of the diocese's Creation Care Ministry teams will meet up to plan cooperative efforts to help the environment.

The meeting is on Saturday November 12, running from 9 am to around 1:30, including (free) lunch at the Augustinian Friary, 214 Ashwood Road, Villanova PA 19085. We will be sharing experiences, delving into the topic of eco-spirituality, and listening to a presentation from Philly's own EnergyCoop.

We also hope to show the Pope's Laudato Si film, The Letter, that afternoon, if you can stay and watch it.

We would really love to see you there - RSVP via info@ecophilly.org.

... and there'll also be some exciting news on training courses from the Laudato Si' Movement!
